Message From the Campus Chief

Higher education quality and need of effective quality assurance mechanism is highly relevant topic in the recent academic area also in Sindhupalchok district. When Tribhuvan University (TU) started providing affiliation to many private and community colleges to conduct various programs at different levels, this effort in the beginning acted as a catalyst to bring awareness and education in the Nepalese society. In the recent years, the worldwide massification of higher education has changed the traditional nexus between higher education and its main objectives. It further increased the importance of higher education which paved way to policy makers to widen the boundary of higher education through national strategy. Thinking this need of higher education in Sindhupalchok district, CMC has established Bachelor programs from 2058 B. S., recently conducted Masters' Degree Program under Education faculty with the affiliation of Tribhuvan University specializing on English and Nepali subjects.

It is realized that higher education is very important for the development of the nation. At the same time, it is also realized that quality higher education is a source of great potential for the socio economic and cultural development of the country. The nation can be transformed into a developed nation within the life time of a single generation. Thus, the concept of higher education was emerged and CMC took its initiation for the first time in this district. CMC is trying to provide qualitative outputs which will be important personalities in the different sectors of the nation from this geographical corner.
